Procedures

Stage 1 - The Early Resolution (Informal Resolution)

1. It is acknowledged that from time to time, Residents will have concerns about the behaviour of others or decisions taken by others within the College. A Resident who feels aggrieved about the behaviour or a decision, is expected to raise the issue(s) with the other party, as soon as practicable.
2. The Resident with a complaint or grievance is strongly encouraged to:
 - a. Gather information and seek advice from a Dean of Residents: Student Life & Academics (Dean) or Deputy Head of College (DHOC), on whether they have a legitimate complaint or grievance and how to resolve their concerns; and
NB.
The Dean can advise the Resident, but not advocate the Resident's grievances.
 - b. Initially seek an informal meeting to solve any complaint or grievance.
3. After gathering information and advice in relation to a complaint or grievance, a Resident may:
 - a. Take no further action; or
 - b. Make an informal approach to the person concerned.
4. It is preferred that these matters will normally be resolved directly or locally by the Resident informally discussing these matters in an open, candid and constructive manner with the other person who is involved in the issue.
5. It is anticipated that effective local action focussed around conciliation will prevent the need for more formal processes to resolve grievances.
 - It is acknowledged that in some cases, the lack of effective conciliation may itself be the prompt for a formal review, rather than the original grievance and this circumstance should be avoided.
6. It is not necessary for a Resident to formally lodge a grievance to prompt a Supervisor or the College Administration to act, where he or she considers that a serious concern warrants intervention.

Stage 2 – The Formal Grievance Resolution

1. A Resident should attempt to resolve a grievance informally, but where a satisfactory resolution has not been achieved, the Resident may proceed to and initiate a formal grievance resolution process, in accordance with this procedure.
2. In cases where a Senior Resident (SR), Dean of Residents: Student Life & Academics (Dean) or staff member is the focus of the concern, the Resident may seek advice from the Deputy Head of College or Head of College on how best to proceed.
3. The Resident must lodge the formal complaint or grievance in writing or by E-Mail, with the Deputy Head of College. The complaint or grievance must state:
 - a. State that they would like to begin the formal complaint and grievance process.

- c. An indication of what resolution is being sought e.g. discontinuing certain behaviour, review of decision, apology from a staff member.
- d. What actions they tried in their attempts to resolve the grievance informally.

The Resident's formal complaint may be supported by statements from other Residents or staff, but any anonymous supporting statements will not be accepted.

4. The Deputy Head of College will decide on who should be the appropriate Responsible Officer and then allocate a Responsible Officer to resolve the grievance. If Resident's grievance is with:
 - a. Another Resident, the Responsible Officer will be a Dean or the Deputy Head of College.
 - b. An SR, Academic Advisors (AA) or Dean, the Responsible Officer will be the Deputy Head of College.
 - c. A member of staff at the operational level then the Responsible Officer will be the Manager of the area where the staff member is employed or a Manager from another department.
5. In some circumstances, a Resident (including an SR or AA) may raise a grievance against a more senior member of staff. In this case, the Resident should lodge the grievance with the Head of College who will then allocate a Responsible Officer to resolve the grievance. If Resident's grievance is with:
 - a. A Manager, the Responsible Officer will be either another Manager or the Head of College.
 - b. The Deputy Head of College, the Responsible Officer will be the Head of College.

 - a. Unless otherwise stated, general timeframes are provided in this procedure as a guide only - matters will vary due to complexity, the availability of parties and the workload of the people involved.
 - b. Similarly, it is expected that grievances will be lodged promptly and not after a lengthy delay (more than 10 working days) or in relation to matters that would reasonably be seen as historical.
7. Where a Resident lodges a formal grievance, then it is expected that any person lodging a grievance in good faith will not be disadvantaged or victimised in raising the grievance.
8. Complaints and grievances will not be proceeded with, where:
 - a. The Grievance is anonymous, or
 - b. The grounds for the grievance appear to be vexatious, frivolous, or malicious, or
 - c. The Head of College considers that the grievance was lodged to avoid disciplinary matters.
9. Within three (3) working days of receiving a complaint or grievance, the Responsible Officer will:
 - a. Initiate discussions with the Resident and have started to clarify the details of the grievance,
 - The aim of the discussions is to:
 - Ascertain the nature and merits of the complaint,
 - Determine whether a genuine grievance exists and
 - Gather information as required to assist with the resolution of the grievance;
 - b. Initiate discussions with the other party and advise them of the particulars of the grievance.

11. The parties involved in complaints and grievances are expected to participate in good faith, have regard to facts, policies, procedures, and the particulars of the circumstances. Grievances will be reviewed in the spirit of achieving resolution, procedural fairness, sensitivity to the parties and confidentiality.
 12. Any party to a grievance may request the assistance of an additional person, such as an observer or support person, who may attend with them, if being interviewed.
 13. The Responsible Officer will
 - a. Take into account the impact of any proposed resolution of the complaint on any third parties.
 - b. Seek to:
 - i) Resolve the grievance (obtain an agreed resolution), or
 - ii) Arrange mediation or conciliation to attempt to resolve the grievance.
 - c. If at any stage in the grievance resolution process a complaint is considered frivolous, vexatious or is lacking in substance, the Responsible Officer may choose not to proceed with the grievance resolution process.
 - The reasons for arriving at this decision must be documented and provided to the student.
 14. Where the mediation or conciliation:
 - a. Proves successful, the matter will be deemed resolved.
 - b. Does not provide grievance resolution, the Responsible Officer will make a determination in relation to the grievance.
 15. Where the Responsible Officer has to make a determination it is to be based upon the material gathered as to the merits of the grievance. Options can include:
 - Affirming the decisions and actions that prompted a grievance (effectively dismissing the grievance), or
 - Recommending that one or more parties apologise, or
 - Requesting that the parties seek further mediation, or
 - Recommending that performance discussions occur; and
 - Recommending a change in the behaviours of one or both parties, such as by initiating training in certain areas or behaviours.
 16. Where a matter arises that is more appropriately dealt with elsewhere:
 - a. Via criminal investigations, it may be referred to the Police, or
 - b. Considered for disciplinary actionrather than be managed as a grievance.
 17. The decision and recommendations of the Responsible Officer are to be communicated in writing to the Resident who lodged a grievance and any other parties, if appropriate.

19. Records or notes, as well as copies of relevant communication during the grievance resolution process should be stored on a confidential College file.
20. Personal disappointment with the determination and recommendations of a Responsible Officer will not normally be sufficient reason to warrant a further review.

Stage 3 – Review of the Formal Grievance Resolution

1. Subject to the formal grievance resolution being completed, and where a Resident is not satisfied with the determination of the grievance made by the Responsible Officer, the Resident may seek a review of the grievance outcome or process with the Deputy Head of College or the Head of College (the Reviewer).
